Understanding your electric bill

What does my bill include?
This section shows your last payment amount, any balance due, and your present billing.

Under the "Balance into this billing" you will see your previous and present meter readings, the dates they were read and the amount of energy used. The energy used determines how much you are charged for "distribution services" and "generation & transmission." Distribution services" are the cost of getting power to your home from your local substation. "Generation & transmission" cover the costs of generating your portion of electricity at the power plant and getting it to the substation.

Operation RoundUp/People Fund is a bill round up program that rounds-up your bill to the next highest dollar. This extra change is a charitable donation given to The People Fund. For more information about The People Fund click here.

Other optional services are listed in this section as well.

For more information about any of the charges on your bill, contact a Member Service Representative at (800) 421-5863.

What do I owe and when is my payment due?
The total due for all of the services listed on your bill is shown here, as well as the due date. If this amount is not paid by the date indicated, a five percent late payment charge is applied to the total due.

A message from your Cooperative.
Watch here each month for an important message from your Cooperative about special offers or featured services that may help you to save money, time or energy.

How do I pay my bill?
Tear off the bottom portion of the bill and return it with your payment. You can mail a check, pay by Visa or Mastercard, or sign up for our Automatic Bill Payment Plan. You can also pay your bill in person at either of our offices.
